PROPOSALS

For Publishing, by Subscription,

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

SIR WALTER SCOTT:

With a Biography; being the first American (and only) edition which contains the Author's last additions and illustrations, arranged upon their respective pages.

A COMPLETE and uniform edition of the various productions of the great 'Minstrel of the North,' is a desideratum with the American public. No library is complete without them, and no edition extant is sufficiently compact for such a repository; while the endless number of editions, without any uniformity in size, heretofore published, besides being exceedingly cumbrous, are far too voluminous and expensive to be within the reach of the great majority of readers. The undersigned therefore announce, that they have now in press, and will issue, an edition of the Works of Sir Walter Scott, which will embrace all his Poems, Novels, Histories, Biographies, and Fugitive Compositions, as well as the Biography and Private Correspondence, now in the course of publication in England, under the superintendence of Mr. Lockhart.

1st. In Parts: each Part embracing as much matter as is contained in two volumes of the present editions of the Waverley Novels, which will be put at the unprecedented low price of THIRTY SEVEN AND A HALF CENTS.

2d. Two parts will appear each month; but should the publishers find the work to meet the patronage they anticipate, FOUR PARTS will be issued monthly.

3d. The whole will be completed in seven volumes, or forty eight parts.

The paper on which the above is now printing, has been made expressly for the purpose; the present parts may, therefore, be considered a fair specimen, in every respect, of the whole work; but, should dissatisfaction arise with any subscriber, owing to an inferior article being offered, he may discontinue at any time, and have the amount paid returned.

Note.—The publication of the first volume is deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the New Edition of the Author's Poetical Works, with 'contemporary criticism—various readings—and correspondence with some of the most eminent persons of the time when the Poems first appeared,' now in the course of publication in England.

Volume 1 will be ornamented with an excellent Portrait of Sir Walter Scott.

JOB PRINTING

EXECUTED, with neatness and despatch, at the Office of the PITTSBURGH GAZETTE. April 26

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, SEPTEMBER 7.

RAIN.—After a very long drought, we are at length favored with a drizzling rain, which promises to be of longer duration than any of the few showers which we have had during many weeks. The rain commenced falling very moderately this morning, about six o'clock, and we judge that it is general. It has been much wanted.

Our rivers continue very low, but merchandise is still regularly carried away in light keel and flat boats; we now entertain a hope that the rain, which commenced this morning, may continue long enough to render the river again navigable by steam boats.

SINGULAR CONDUCT.—When the Sheriffs of the different counties in Letcher's district, in Kentucky, met, to make their returns, and to announce the result of the election, the Sheriff of Lincoln county undertook to decide that the returns from Garrard county were erroneous, and proposed that they should be examined; this being rejected, he refused to produce the returns from his own county. So that because his colleagues refused to scrutinize matters with which they had nothing to do, but which he pleased to pronounce erroneous, he, of his own authority, excluded returns which were admitted on all hands to be correct!!!

COMMUNICATED.

The citizens of Pittsburgh, opposed to Secret Societies, are respectfully invited to assemble at Wray's Hotel, in Fourth street, on Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock. MANY.

Important Letter.—The following letter, says the New York Commercial Advertiser, from Mexico, is not only of a late date, but from a high and authentic source. The writer has opportunities of acquiring information, and forming opinions, possessed by but few. His suspicions respecting the ulterior designs of Santa Anna, correspond with the views which we have entertained of the character of that chieftain for years. They may be unfounded. But—

From our Correspondent.

MEXICO, 17th July, 1833.

We are once more in civil war, and how long it may endure, none can predict. The leaders in the new plan (so called) are amongst the most distinguished and popular officers in the whole Mexican army, and have already attracted to their standard most of the regular troops. Several affairs have already occurred between the army of the government and revolters, but terminating always in the defeat of the troops of the government. The President, Gen. Santa Anna, has taken the command of the army in person, and much is expected from him. His star may once more gain the ascendant; and, like Bonaparte, he relies on his star—but in nothing else is he like that hero of an hundred battles. My own opinion is decidedly that Santa Anna must be beaten, and he will either fall in view of the pronunciados, or be put down. Strong suspicions are entertained, and rumors are already abroad, that the Revolters and the President understand each other, that he secretly favors the plan, and connives at their movements. The basis of the new plan is the creation of a Dictator with the powers of the Autocrat of all the Russias, and perhaps the title of the Executive may, in a short time, be changed to King or Emperor, but we know the style or title matters little, so the Executive has the power. "A rose by any other name would smell as sweet."

Those who pretend to know the President best, say he has always hankered after Royalty, and we shall very probably see that problem solved in six or eight weeks.

THE NEAPOLITAN CONVENTION.

The Washington Globe, of Friday last, contains an official copy of the Convention between our Government and the King of the Two Sicilies, which was concluded at Naples on the 14th of October last, by John Nelson, Esquire, our Charge d'Affaires, and Count Statelfo, the Sicilian Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. The Convention provides for the payment to citizens of the United States for the depredations committed upon American commerce by Murat, during the years 1809, 1810, 1811, and 1812. The sum allowed is two millions one hundred and fifteen thousand Neapolitan ducats, less seven thousand six hundred and seventy nine ducats, which is to be applied to reimburse the Neapolitan Government for the expenses incurred by it, in the transportation of American seamen from the kingdom of Naples during the year 1810. The money is to be paid in Naples in nine equal instalments with interest of two hundred and thirty five thousand ducats, and with interest thereon, at the rate of four per centum per annum, to be calculated from the date of the interchange of the ratification of this Convention, until the whole sum shall be paid. The first instalment shall be payable twelve months after the exchange of the said ratifications, and the remaining instalments, with the interest successively, one year after another. The said payments shall be made in Naples into the hands of such person as shall be duly authorized by the Government of the United States to receive the same.—Poulson.

Improved Railway.—We have been favored with the slight of the model of a new mode of railway conveyance, which, if brought into use, will present extraordinary advantages to the public. It is on the principle of the Saxton locomotive pully, and according to the calculations of the projector, who is an engineer of some celebrity, the average rate of traveling will be nearly thirty miles an hour on a light railway laid upon the ordinary road, without requiring the least expenditure for leveling, so that the cost per mile, instead of being £20,000, as it is on the railway now in use, will be only £5,000. According to the proposed plan, a horse, walking at the rate of two miles and a half an hour, over a distance of only one hundred yards, will be able to draw a light carriage, containing four persons, a distance of more than one thousand six hundred yards within the same period of time as that occupied by the annimal in performing its own distance. The carriage, on arriving at the end of a mile, will be carried by mechanism from the truck on which it is placed to another truck in waiting to receive it, and the same will be done from mile to mile to the end of the journey, each succeeding carriage being drawn in a similar manner to the first, until the whole train shall have passed over the railway.—London Sun.

Inhuman Butchery!—The following particulars of the murder of Col. Woodbine and family, have been communicated to the editors of the N. York Mercantile Advertiser, by Captain Beckman, of the Hesper, which arrived from Carthagena, on Sunday.

On the night of the 26th of July, Col. George W. Woodbine and his family, consisting of his wife and two sons, were inhumanly butchered, at Maraparata, their plantation, about 2 leagues from Carthagena, near the shore of the Bay, in the direction of Boca Chica. The horrid act was supposed to be committed by blacks, from adjoining plantations, with the object of robbery.

The dwelling was plundered of all the valuable furniture, and every part broken open and searched, where money would likely have been found—but it was believed none was found, as, after the murder, some gold, &c. belonging the Colonel, was found deposited in another place. It was not known whether the Colonel's own slaves were accessary to the crime or not—they stated they all fled when the robbers attacked the premises, and the next day gave information of the act in Carthagena. Eighteen blacks, residing in the neighborhood of the scene, had been arrested on suspicion, and were to have their trial on the day after the Hesper sailed.

Col. Woodbine, it will be recollected, was the officer who commanded in Florida, in 1815. He had resided at the above plantations for several years past, and bore the character of an honorable gentleman.

The Cotton Manufacture in England.—The entire value of this manufacture, in 1760, did not amount to 200,000*l.*; but, since that time, by the aid of human skill and machinery, it has not only extended its produce over all Europe and America, but has undersold the Asiatics in their cheap and home markets; sending a larger quantity of its produce to the East Indies and China than to the U. States. In 1824, Huskisson stated in the House of Commons, that the annual produce of this manufacture was 35,000,000*l.*; in 1827, it was stated to be 38,000,000*l.*; and at present cannot be estimated under 37,000,000*l.* Deducting six millions for the cost of the raw material, (though it certainly does not amount to that sum,) leaves 31,000,000*l.* More than 850,000 weavers, spinners, bleachers, &c. are employed in this manufacture, the amount of whose wages, at 24*l.* per year, exceeds 2,000,000*l.*; and the wages of 111,000 engineers, masons, smiths, joiners, machine makers, &c., at the rate of only 30*l.* a year, would produce 3,330,000*l.* making altogether 5,330,000*l.*; which, deducted from 31,000,000*l.*, leaves 25,670,000*l.* for the profits of capital invested in looms, work shops, mills, machinery, &c. This capital was estimated, in the year above mentioned, at sixty five millions, and at present exceeds seventy five millions. The number of men altogether employed is 1,200,000.—Eng. Paper.

An Uncommon Wedding.—About a fortnight ago, a wedding took place at the Collegiate Church, under circumstances which we should suppose are without a parallel in the annals of matrimony.—The parties we are told reside in the neighborhood of St. George's road; and, as our information goes, some weeks since the wife of the bridegroom declared in a company of female acquaintances, that she would give three pounds to any one who would marry her husband, and take him off her hands." "Will you?" cried one of the company, "I'll do it," and without any further ceremony, the bargain was concluded. When the husband was consulted, he expressed himself quite willing to make the transfer of his "troth" to the adventurous damsel, and on the 19th ult. they proceeded to the Collegiate Church in a body, the wife officiating as bridesmaid, and the uncle as groomsman to the happy pair. At the altar the self discarded wife took the ring from her finger and presented it to the bridegroom to place upon that of his new bride, and when the nuptial ceremony was ended, she duly paid over to her successor the three pounds which had been agreed upon as the price of her liberty, presenting the new married couple also with a cart load of furniture towards the formation of a new domestic establishment! Of Course the peculiar circumstances of the case were not made known to the clergyman who performed the ceremony.—Lond. Herald.

A late number of the Journal de Smyrne attributes the following projects to the Viceroy of Egypt. "Mehemet Ali, with a view to improve the advantages he has gained by the peace, has already formed several plans for increasing his wealth, and benefiting his vast domains. His genius enables him to foresee the immense preponderance he may obtain by keeping up a respectable force; consequently he is about to augment his navy considerably, and carry it to the amount of 20 ships. He is resolved to form a good road from Alexandria to Cairo, and a canal from Suez to the Nile, in order to transfer all his manufactories into Syria, and encourage only agriculture in Egypt. He intends to open a communication between the river Orontes, which falls into the Mediterranean, and the Euphrates, whose mouth opens into the Persian Gulf, and completely drain the Marsh of Alexandretta. As to the Island of Candia, (ancient Crete,) he proposes to convert the capital into a free port, and to form a commercial intercourse with the coast. He intends also to establish a maritime arsenal, in Judea, for large sized ships. All who know the character of Mehemet Ali are acquainted with the perseverance with which he carries his projects into execution, however gigantic they may be. He entertains the idea of making a voyage to Crete, and traveling into Syria, as soon as the peace is fully confirmed, in order to survey those countries with his own eyes, and to adapt his measures to the state in which he finds them. He is to be accompanied by the Consuls of France and England, each of whom is to have a frigate of his nation at his disposal."

The Light of Nature.—The celebrated Mr. Hume wrote an essay on the sufficiency of the light of Nature; and the no less celebrated Dr. Robertson wrote on the necessity of Revelation and the insufficiency of the light of nature. Hume came one evening to visit Robertson, and the evening was spent on this subject. The friends of both were present, and it is said that Robertson reasoned with unquestionable clearness and power. Whether Hume was convicted by his reasoning or not, we cannot tell, but at any rate he did not acknowledge his conviction. Hume was very much of a gentleman; and, as he rose to depart, bowed politely to those in the room, while, as he retired through the door, Robertson took the light, to show him the way. Hume was still facing the door. "O! Sir," said he, "I find the light of nature always sufficient;" and so he bowed on.—The street door opened, and presently, as he bowed along the entry, he stumbled over something concealed, and pitched down the stairs into the street. Robertson ran after him with the light, and, as he held it over him, whispered softly and very cunningly, "you had better have a light from above, friend." And rising him up, he bid him good night, and returned to his friends.

Antiquity of Mechanical Science.—We read in Genesis, that ships were as old, even on the Mediterranean, as the days of Jacob. We likewise read that the Philistines brought thirty thousand chariots into the field against Saul; so that chariots were in use 1070 years before Christ. And about the same time architecture was brought into Europe. And 1030 years before Christ, Ammon built long and tall ships with sails, on the Red Sea and Mediterranean. And, about ninety years after, the ship Argo was built; which was the first Greek vessel that ventured to pass through the sea, by help of sails, without sight of land, being guided only by the stars. Dædalus also, who lived 930 years before Christ, made sails for ships, and invented several sorts of tools, for carpenters and joiners to work with. He also made several moving statues, which could walk or run of themselves. And about 800 years before Christ, we find in 2 Chron. xv. that Uzziah made in Jerusalem, engines, invented by cunning men, to be on the towers and upon the bulwarks, to shoot arrows and great stones withal. Corn mills were early invented; for we read in Deuteronomy, that it was not lawful for any man to take the nether or the upper mill stone to pledge; yet water was not applied to mills before the year of Christ 600, nor wind mills used before the year 1200. Likewise, 580 years before Christ, we read in Jeremiah xviii. of the potter's wheel. Architas was the first that applied mathematics to mechanics, but left no mechanical writings behind him: he made a wooden pigeon that could fly about. Archimedes, who lived about 200 years before Christ, was a most subtle geometer and mechanic. He made engines that drew up the ships of Marcellus at the seige of Syracuse; and others that would cast a stone of a prodigious weight to a great distance, or else several lesser stones, as also darts and arrows; but there have been many fabulous reports concerning these engines. He also made a sphere which showed the motions of the sun, moon, and planets. And Posidonius, afterwards, made another which showed the same thing.

In these days, the liberal arts flourished, and learning met with proper encouragement; but, afterwards they became neglected for a long time. Aristotle, who lived about two hundred and ninety years before Christ, was one of the first that writ any methodical discourse on mechanics. But, at this time, the art was contained in a very little compass, there being scarcely any thing more known about it than the six mechanical powers. In this state, it continued till the sixteenth century, and then clock work was invented; and about 1650, were the first clocks made. At this time, several of the most eminent mathematicians began to consider mechanics; and, by their study and industry, have prodigiously enlarged its bounds, and made a most comprehensive science. It extends through heaven and earth; the whole universe, and every part of it, is its subject. Not one particle of matter but what comes under its laws. For what else is there in the visible world, but matter and motion? and the properties and affections of both these are the subject of mechanics.—Emerson.

Equality of Mankind.—All civil distinctions disappear before a thinking being. He sees the same passions, the same ideas, pervade the mind of the peer and the peasant; a gloss only is discernible in the language and appearance of the one, which the other does not possess. If any difference distinguishes them, it is to the advantage of him who wears the mask. The people show themselves as they are, and they are not amiable; the great know the necessity of disguising themselves; were they to exhibit themselves as they are, they would excite horror.—Swift.

Generation of the Eel.—The vexata questio, which has occupied the attention of naturalists from Aristotle downwards, has been at last set at rest by Mr. Quarrel, (in a paper read at the late meeting of the British Association, at Cambrdge) who has proved by actual examinations and dissections, carried on through eighteen months in succession, upon specimens of eel, procured from different parts of the country, that it is oviparous, having melt and roe like other fishes. He has traced them down to the brackish water whither they go generally, though not universally, to deposit their spawn, and he has followed the young in their extraordinary spring journeys up the great rivers, and into the brooks and rivulets, in which they seek out for themselves appropriate haunts. In numbers they are immeasurble—the shoals advance up the stream, forming a black line along the shore; nor are these journeys confined to the water—they cross fields and climb posts and pales, in order to reach their place of destination.

Swiss Emigrants.—We were not a little surprised, in taking a very early morning walk along the docks yesterday, to find in Washington street, a large number of Swiss emigrants, who made the streets their abode for the night. They had arranged their boxes, chests, and bedding on the side walks, and men, women and children had slept comfortably under no other canopy than the sky. At sun rise they were getting up and adjusting their toilets; mothers were packing up their beds and putting things "to rights;" the men were surrounding a milk cart, purchasing milk; daughters were scrubbing the faces of the young children with hard salt water, and applying their aprons as towels to the screaming urchins; others peeling potates and gathering sticks to cook a breakfast, while some were fondling a goodly number of infants. All appeared healthy and to enjoy themselves. The weather was fine, and they appeared to be making the best of every thing, and traveling to the interior with the utmost economy.—They were in want of nothing, well advised, and were going to some place in the interior where they had friends, and where they intend to settle for life.—Daily Adv.

Valuable Invention.—Our enterprizing townsman, Mr. Ebenezer Miltimore, coach maker, has succeeded in completing a most valuable improvement for Stage Coaches and vehicles of burthen. It consists in a simple apparatus for locking the hind wheels when going down hill, and is so constructed that the resistance of the lock, which is in exact proportion to the pressure, is regulated by the wheel horses without the least interruption.—When the carriage presses upon the horses, the lock flies to their relief, and, as soon as it ceases, the lock flies from the wheel. The apparatus is simple and strong, and not liable to be put out of order by any accident, and it is believed that with it two horses can manage, with safety, five tons, descending any hill on our roads. The first trial was made of it on Saturday last, on a new coach, built for Messrs. Colder & Wilson, which succeeded to admiration. We understand that the inventor intends constructing one in such a manner as to secure a coach in case the horses attempt to run away. The present one is perfect security against any fright of the leaders, but we believe the object in contemplation is to render it security against the whole team by applying the lock or brake, at the option of the driver; in which case, the more rapid their career, the sooner they will be brought up, as the pressure of the brake will be in proportion to the rapidity of the coach. This gentleman has thus accomplished one of the most important improvements of the day—a great desideratum for stages in particular, and one which must induce every stage owner to apply it for private as well as public security. The whole cost of the apparatus does not exceed ten dollars. The invention has been secured by a patent, and we have no doubt but the inventor will be well rewarded for the time and labor spent in perfecting this valuable improvement.—Harrisburgh Telegraph.

Pretty Good.—A young lady remarked to a fop the other day, that his penknife (which, by the by, was a very neat one) in one respect resembled him. The ladies in the room commenced guessing what it could be. At last, a smart looking little boy, who had until now sat in one corner silent, was asked to guess. After examining the knife pretty closely, he turned round, and in a cunning manner said, "well, I don't know, unless it is, because it's dull!"

The celebrated Count Leon, who has made considerable noise over the whole country, and who has resided in this county for a year and a half past, departed for some part of the "far West," on Sunday last, accompanied by a number of those who followed him from Germany. It is recollected that the Count effected a split in the Economy Society, a part of whom left their homes, firesides, and friends, to follow this adventurer, who has, with his large retinue, been maintained at their expense, until their funds were exhausted. These honest but deluded people have at length found him to be an impostor, and dissolved all connection with him. The story that went the rounds of the newspapers, that the Count on his arrival in this country, was in possession of $7,000,000, was altogether without foundation. While at Phillipsburgh he pretended that he had a direct intercourse with Heaven—that he could change rocks and rubbish into pure gold, with which he intended to build up the "New Jerusalem" in the West. —Beaver Argus, Sept. 6.

The following appears in a London paper on the subject of Colonial expenditure:—"A return has been made to Parliament showing the immediate and prospective reductions which have been, or, are about to be, made in our colonial expenditure. The total civil expenditure of all the colonies amounted before the reductions to 572,717*l.*, of which 134,331*l.*, is to be immediately reduced, and 90,282*l.*, as soon as existing interests expire, making a total reduction of 224,614*l.*, in an expenditure of less than 600,000*l.* It will not be denied this is a vigorous and unflinching method of going to work."

The saving in time, by conveying the great Southern mail by the rail road and steam boat from Petersburg, Va. to Halifax, N. C. will be about ten hours. The distance is 70 miles, and the mail and passengers are to be conveyed in five hours.

In men there is a a lump upon the windpipe formed by the thyroid cartilage, which is not to be seen in women. An Arabian fable says, that this is part of the original apple that stuck in the man's throat by the way; but that woman swallowed her part of it down.

Mineral Wealth of New Jersey.—In addition to the well known valuable mines which abound in this state, we notice the recent discovery of a copper mine, at Flemington, Hunterdon county, New Jersey, on the farm of Mr. Capner, in digging a cellar. "The ore is so abundant at present" says our informant, "that it is laid open like a quarry; of course many tons may be taken out without much labor."

It is thought by a good judge, to be a very rich and promising mine. "The ore is Sulphuret of Copper—one of the richest ores of that metal.—Camden Repub.

The trisection of the angle, which has so long occupied the attention of the learned world, has been solved, upon new principles, by the Rev. Mr. Cahill, Professor of Astronomy, at Carlow College. We are informed that Mr. Cahill submitted his discovery to the examniation of Dr. Sadlier, and others, members of Trinity College; and we are happy to learn that all agree in the fact, that the problem has been perfectly solved, and on the most scientific principles. An objection, however, we are told has been raised against Mr. Cahill's discovery, namely, he employs a new curve, hitherto unknown, in order to effect the trisection, whereas the difficulty was to solve the problem with lines and circles.—Dublin Journal.

The Baptist Association, comprised of Barnstable County and Martha's Vineyard, (Mass.,) recommend the discontinuance of wearing the usual badges of mourning, on the death of a friend.

According to the last census taken in Prussia, the population of that kingdom amounted to 13,099,805 inhabitants. During the year 1832 there were 481,959 births, and 421,114 deaths. Thus, there was an increase of 60,845 souls.

Coffee.—The Boston Courier, of Aug. 29, gives a list in detail of the "foreign imports of coffee into the port of Boston," during the first seven months of the year 1832, and for a corresponding period of the present year. From this it appears that the amount of the imports of Coffee at that port, were estimated at

From Jan'y to August, 1832—21,728,000 lbs.
From Jan'y to August, 1833—13,720,000

Decrease in seven months, 8,008,000 lbs.

Some excitement exists in New Haven, in consequence of the recent arrest of a slave, who had made his escape from Mobile. After an examination before Judge Bristol, he was fully identified, and remanded to the possession of the owner.

Thames Tunnel.—The New York Courier says, there is some probability that this magnificent undertaking of the English people will soon be recommenced. The shareholders, it is said, have engaged to furnish one half of the funds necessary for its completion, and the other half, it is believed, will be granted by the British Parliament.

An Admirable Hit!—Our readers may recollect that Wm. C. Preston, of S. C., in one of his furious tirades, applied to the state of North Carolina the somewhat degrading epithet of "the Rip Van Winkle of the South." In an address, lately delivered to the people of Newburn, Mr. Gaston, than whom an abler man exists not in the South, thus replied to the insult:—"Better is it," said he, "to sleep on forever than to awaken to madness and to treason. Better is it that we should personate the drowsy hero of Washington Irving, than excite the mingled horror and ridicule of mankind, by representing the combined characters of Captain Bobadil and Cataline!" Good!

Law School.—An institution of this kind is to be opened in Cincinnati on the first of October. At the head of the list of instructers, is the Hon. John C. Wright, late member of Congress, now Chief Justice of Ohio.

The Committee of the Senate of this State, appointed at the last session of the legislature, to explore the coal region, and collect information respecting the coal trade, will meet at Pottsville, to enter upon the duties of their appointment, on the 2d Monday of September. Gardens.—In the Great Marylebone Work house which has a front that, for length, and the size and number of windows, might be compared to a Russian palace, there are constantly from eighty to one hundred and twenty very old men and women, who are led or carried out, one by one, every morning, and set down on a bench under a shed, or, when the weather is fine, in the sun, where they remain almost in a state of torpor, being unable to help themselves and having no one to attend to them, till they are led or carried, one by one, back again, at the time appointed for their next meal. What a picture of human desolation? If, instead of being placed upon benches, with nothing to gaze at but a brick wall, these persons were led into a garden, where they could see numbers of their fellow inmates at work, breathe the fresh air, see and smell the flowers, and hear the birds and other rural sounds, their miserable lot would have some little alleviation. A number of them could perhaps assist in some of the lighter garden operations; the most infirm could scare away the birds, or prepare gooseberries and vegetables for the kitchen. This might enable them to measure their time as it goes, and would afford some kind of amusement to divert their minds from incessantly dwelling on their own forlorn and hopeless condition. Is it too much to say that something would be gained for the happiness of the human kind, if all men were agreed that, wherever there was a habitation, whether for an individual family, or for a number of persons, strangers to each other, such as hospitals, workhouses, prisons, asylums, infirmaries, and even barracks, there should be a garden. In our opinion, a dwelling without a garden ought not to exist.—Loudon's Gardener's Magazine.

Extracts from the New York Market, August 31.

COFFEE—The transactions since our last are 2,500 bags Cuba at 12 3-4 to 13 1-4 cts., 2,000 bags Rio at 12 1-2 to 13 1-4 cts.; 400 bags Manilla at 14 cts.; 3 to 400 bags Laguira at 13 to 14 cts., and some Java at 14 cts.

COTTON—Sales of the week amount to 4,000 bales, consisting of 1,800 bales Uplands, at 15 to 17 cts.; 1,000 bales Florida and Alabama, at 15 to 17 1-2 cts.; 1,200 bales Tennessee, at 15 to 18 cts. The import of the week has been 1,800 bales.

DOMESTIC GOODS—The business of the week has not been large, though prices continue to be fully maintained.

FLOUR—The receipts during the week have not been heavy, but they are commensurate with the demands. Western have been taken pretty freely, from new wheat, at $5 44, and from old wheat at $5 37 1-2; of the latter but little remains. The supplies of Southern have been light, and considerable sales of Georgetown have been made at full prices.

SUGAR—The demand for white and brown box Sugars has been extensive, and the transactions have been at an advance on both kinds. From 12 to 1,500 boxes brown Havana sold at 8 5-8 to 9 1-8 cts.; 5 to 600 boxes white do. at 9 1-4 to 10 1-2 cts.; 280 to 300 hhds. New Orleans, at 8 1-4 to 9 1-2 cts.; 150 hhds. Porto Rico, at 9 to 9 1-2 cents, and 100 hhds. Muscovado, at 9 3-4 cts.

WOOL—This article still maintains the previous high prices, and holders look for an improvement. The stock of American in this country is considered hardly sufficient for the consumption until the next shearing, and, from the scarcity of wool in in Europe, and the extreme high prices, the importations will be light. At present the stock of fine Foreign wool in this country is very small. The last advices from London, as well as the continent, represent this article as still in an improving state, and no probability of a decline this year.—Mercantile Adv.

Extracts from the New Orleans Market, Aug. 17.

COTTON—The sales since our last report are, viz: 16 bales, at 15 1-2, 15 do. at 15 1-4, 16 do. at 16, and 32 do. at 15 1-4 cents per lb. round, it was all of quite common quality. There yet remains for sale a few bales of Tennessee Cotton, and the small quantity of Louisiana and Mississippi that the steam boats pick up along the coast, so that it is highly probable that, in a few days, there will not remain a bale of the old crop on hand. The new crop has not yet made its appearance in the city.

TOBACCO, Leaf, in hhds.—There is none for sale, and we give no quotation.

SUGAR is scarce and in good demand at 8 1-2 a 9 cents per lb. We have not heard of a transaction, except by the grocers, for city consumption.

MOLASSES—We have not heard of a sale this week. We quote 26 cents per gallon, as formerly.

FLOUR is rather dull at $6 per barrel. It arrives regularly, and in sufficient quantities to satisfy the city demand, and though the Mexican ports are now open for provisions, the market does not materially improve.

PROSPECT HILL
Literary & Scientific Institution.
PITTSBURGH, Pa.

ON the 1st of July, Mr. DANIEL STONE intends opening, near the City of Pittsburgh, an Institution for the instruction of boys. Its plan is to combine, as far as possible, the peculiar advantages of a domestic and public education.—The pupils, with the principal and assistants, will constitute one family, and be at all times under careful supervision. The Discipline will be mild, but strict, such as a father, solicitous for the welfare of his children, would exercise over them. It is believed that an appeal to reason, and the sense of honor and duty, will generally secure obedience. Coercive measures will, therefore, be adopted only in extreme cases.

The Course of Study will embrace the English, Latin, Greek, and French Languages; Arithmetic, Algebra, and Geometry; Geography and History—Ancient and Modern; Rhetoric, Composition, and Elocution; Natural Philosophy and Chemistry; Penmanship, Orthography, and Reading. Frequent examinations will be held, open to the friends and relations of the youths.

The Mode of Instruction will be thorough and critical, and no subject will be relinquished until fully understood. That the scholar's mind may become vigorous, active, and self-confident—prepared for the stern conflicts of life, and a fearless discharge of its duties, he will be encouraged to reason and decide for himself.

Each student will be required to attend such church as his parent or guardian shall designate.

To preserve health and elasticity of spirits, to check indolence, and promote industry among the students, they will be daily exercised in athletic sports.

Pupils will be admitted between the ages of Six and Sixteen. None can be received for less than one term.

The uniform Dress will consist of a cap, blue roundabout, with metal buttons, and blue pantaloons. Every article of clothing should be marked with the owner's name in full.

The Terms are two hundred dollars a year, payable quarterly in advance. This includes Tuition, Board, Lodging, Washing, Mending, Light, and Fuel.

The Vacations, after the present year, will be three—the 1st, of two weeks, from the 3d Wednesday in April; the 2d, of four weeks, from the 2d Wednesday in August; and one week at Christmas.

The Matron's department will be under the care of Mrs. Reynolds, of this city.

YOUNG LADIES'
Boarding and Day School.

MR. & MRS. ALDEN, formerly of Meadville, but lately of Cincinnati, contemplate opening a Young Ladies' Boarding and Day School, in the Borough of Allegheny, on the last Monday of the present month of August.

Without entering into particulars, their object will be to instruct in the various branches usually taught at our best female institutions. Among the Day Scholars, a class of boys, under eight years of age, will be received.

☞ For terms—application may be made to the Teachers, at the house recently occupied by the Rev. Mr. Halsey, which Mr. Alden has taken for the proposed purpose, till a prospectus shall have been published.

PERIODICALS.

AMERICAN RAILROAD JOURNAL, and Advocate of Internal Improvements, which is designed as a repository of the accounts of the rise and progress of numerous works of Internal Improvement, in the United States particularly, and in other parts of the world generally. The work is published weekly, and forms a large octavo volume each year, of 832 pages of 3 columns each, for $3 per annum, in advance.

New York Farmer, and American Gardener's Magazine. This work is designed for the agriculturist, and will be found to contain much, both interesting and profitable, to those who cultivate the soil as a business, or merely a garden for amusement. Published in monthly parts of 32 large octavo pages, with three columns each, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States---In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM. ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the coativeness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞ A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradually increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a l cases. and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he lives, in Washington county, on Pigeon creek, one mile south of Williamsport, on the Monongahela river, to which there is a perfectly level road. This farm contains near 400 acres, the greater part of which is first rate land. There is on the premises a Brick Dwelling House, a Merchant mill, in good repair, a new saw mill, a stone still house, 35 by 40 feet; a salt works is also in operation, and worked to advantage; about 150 acres of land cleared and under good fence. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.

To a person wishing to embark in a manufacturing business, and possessing capital, this would be a very desirable situation, having the advantage of both water power from Pigeon creek, and banks of the very best coal near to the works, and easy of access, and its vicinity to so navigable a river, where articles of any kind are so cheaply transported to Pittsburgh.

For further particulars, apply to James P. Stuart, Merchant, Wood street, Pittsburgh, or to the subscriber on the premises.
